Portland Township Official Claims a Municipal Record

By FRED B. PENSE, STAFF WRITER

Forty-five years of continuous municipal service terminated this week when Thomas Alexander Kerr, clerk-treasurer of Portland Township, tendered his resignation. Mr. Kerr, who recently celebrated his 77th birthday, was appointed clerk of Portland Township on June 15, 1908. The late Howard Reynolds, father of Judge J. C. Reynolds, was township reeve at the time. Failing health in recent months resulted in Mr. Kerr submitting his resignation on Tuesday last. His son, Laverne Kerr, Hartington, is acting clerk-treasurer pending a new appointment.

Mr. Kerr is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Kerr of Pleasant Valley. He has lived for the past eight years on Highway No. 38, midway between Harrowsmith and Hartington. When first appointed Mr. Kerr received a yearly salary of $100 which permitted him to carry on his farm duties.

Speaking of his long period of service Mr. Kerr said he understood that he held a record for continuous service as a clerk-treasurer for any municipality in the province. "I have always made a practice of being accurate," he said, "and if I do say so myself, I am a good penman. I never went to bed knowing my cash books were out of balance."

Speaking of changes that had taken place, Mr. Kerr said when he took office in 1908 the tax roll was $14,903.22, while this year it is approximately $75,000. "I have served under 13 reeves," said this venerable official. Ray Babcock is the present reeve. Wellington Vannest, Verona, has the honor of serving the longest period as reeve during Mr. Kerr's tenure of office.

Mr. Kerr through all of these years has had the able assistance of his wife. There are five children, two sons, Laverne of Hartington, and Joseph of Kingston; three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Quinn, Hartington, Mrs. L. Page and Mrs. O. Cowdy, both of Kingston. He has one brother, William at Yarker, and three sisters, Mrs. F. McRory, Sydenham, Mrs. M. Card, Ogdensburg, N.Y., and Mrs. C. Estes, Kingston.

If Mr. Kerr were handing out advice to new incumbents of municipal offices, it would be to be accurate, keep books posted up to date, and remember to be courteous to ratepayers, as well as the elected representatives.

Man Creates Disturbance In His Sleep

OTTAWA (CP) — Can a sleeping man create a disturbance?

As Bernard Lahaise found out Wednesday night, the answer is "yes," if:

He picks the wrong apartment hallway for a snooze; he takes off everything but his socks; and if he gets caught.

Police found Lahaise in such straits and Thursday he was fined $25 and costs for creating a disturbance.

Harrowsmith Couple Observe 1939 Their 58th Wedding Anniversary

HARROWSMITH, March 21— Arthur A. Ward, 79, and Hannah Ward 80, are today celebrating the 58th anniversary of their marriage at their home here where they have lived for the past 35 years. Mr. and Mrs. Ward are much beloved in the neighborhood in which they reside and today received the congratulations of a very wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward were married March 21, 1881, by Rev. Charles Woodcock, in the Newburg Methodist Church parsonage. Both were born near Petworth, Ont. Mr. Ward was engaged as a farmer, and his farm was situated just a short distance from the home in which he and his wife now reside. Nine years ago Mr. Ward suffered the loss of his left leg as the result of an accident, while Mrs. Ward has been a cripple for the past forty years following a fall.

However, in spite of being incapacitated, both Mr. and Mrs. Ward enjoy life and take a great interest in world events, being very eager for news in the newspapers and also on the radio. They have a hobby too, and that is a good garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward have one son, ex-Ald. Marle E. Ward, of 473 Princess Street, Kingston, and one grandchild, Fern Ward. They are the only survivors of the group of people who were settled in the Harrowsmith district at the time they took up residence there.

JAMES KERR

June 1, 1958
Early Wednesday morning, May 30, Moscow lost one of its finest citizens, in the person of James Kerr, in his 85th, year. Mr. Kerr was born in the Township of Portland, eldest son of William Kerr, one of Porland's pioneer settlers.

He came to Moscow 52 years ago and married Marguerite Millsap, fourth daughter of Hicks Millsap, a pioneer of the Moscow District, who predeceased him nine years ago.

The late James Kerr was a faithful member of the Anglican Church, a member of Victoria Lodge No. 299, G.R.C., A.F. & A.M., Centreville Ontario, A conservative in politics and took keen interest in public affairs and stood for all that was upright and just and was outspoken against anything bordering on dishonesty, even among professed members of his own political party.

Mr. Kerr was a successful farmer and an intelligent agriculturist who studied the art of making two blades of grass grow where ordinarily there would be but one. He was also a successful breeder of Dual Purpose Short-horn Cattle and frequently developed pure-breds, which won high awards, had they been placed on exhibition. To his calling as a farmer, his heart was attached, his energies were dedicated; around his all his interests revolved and for this alone he lived.

His funeral was held from his late residence on Friday, May 12, where a large concourse of relatives and friends had gathered. Reverend M. F. Oldham of Camden East conducted the service and the beautiful floral Tributes bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Interment was made in the family plot in the Moscow Cemetery. Following the comital service by Rev. M. F. Oldham—The Funeral Service of the Masonic Order was fittingly solemnized with Craft Ceremonies by the members and brethren of the Centreville Masonic Lodge.

Mr. W. B. Burleigh:
Bath, Ontario

Dear Mr. Burleigh: ✓

Your valued letter has been among several that have lain in my file since summer awaiting the time when I could properly reply. My business has taken every ounce of energy this summer and only now have I found a chance to put the study in necessary to make reply to you. I hope this will constitute both an explanation and an apology ✓

My interest in family history has been held to the one family of Carrs to which I belong. This is a large group but many of the name cannot be included. The Daniel Carr whose mention you found in "Carr Family Records" is not of our Rhode Island group and I have nothing on him other than the date which you quoted. I doubt very much if he is the Daniel that you want. Unless he married the second time his wife's name is wrong. — you say your Daniel came from the Prov. of New York.

This Bridgewater Daniel was not likely to have gone via a stay in New York. Bridgewater is in eastern Mass., south of Boston.

In our line I have but one possibility and that without any hint of probability. A Daniel-barr was b. in East Greenwich, R.I. on Apr. 19, 1751.
I have nothing further on him, but the grandchildren of his brother did reside in N.Y.
State, near Syracuse which hints at a connection.
I am sorry to be of so little help.

Recently I had a letter from a lady who has been digging out some data connected with our group. In it she cites an old will that mentions one of our barrs as having removed to St. Armand in Lower Canada. I do not have a Canadian map. Is this within your territory? The name was Caleb Carr and he was living in St Armand in 1814. I could give you much on his antecedents if you desire. Others of the family there at the same time were Clark Rogers and Thomas Baber.

I will enclose a brochure which I try

(See inside page)

Published and distributed as a contribution to the study of the history of one of America's sturdy families by Arthur A. Carr, Ticonderoga, N. Y.

HE ONLY DESERVES TO BE REMEMBERED BY POSTERITY WHO TREASURES UP AND PRESERVES THE HISTORY OF HIS ANCESTORS. — Edmund Burke

The Carr Family Annual Is Unique

It is one of the few publications devoted to the history and interests of a single family.

It contains much material not readily available. Begun as a stimulant to family research, it has become the clearing house for family history.

Since the publication of The Carr Book in 1947 it has served as a supplement to that work.

It is published and distributed by and at the expense of the author of that book as a contribution to the increasing interest in the study of the Carr family of colonial Rhode Island.

To Librarians--

Notations on the proper pages of THE CARR BOOK referring to the supplementing material in this Annual would be helpful. The Annuals for 1948 and 1949 also supplement THE CARR BOOK. If you lack these they will be supplied without cost as long as the supply lasts. If THE CARR BOOK is not on your shelves it should be. See back page of this Annual for details.

THE CARR BOOK and these Annuals are devoted to the study of the Rhode Island group of Carrs alone. The book contains sketches of more than 1200 descendants of the two colonial ancestors. The study of the other large groups of American Carrs must be left to the efforts of others.

— This Annual will be sent to interested persons upon request —

Ticonderoga, N. Y., March, 1950

DEAR FAMILY:

The publication of The Carr Family Annual is becoming in part a report to you on the progress of our mutual research. It is a source of great satisfaction to me to have so many of you in all parts of the country at work on different phases of family research. I am trying to make this little family paper an expression of the efforts of all of us. To you who have knowledge of bits of family history that should be fitted into the great picture of the family as a whole I send the urgent plea to do it while you may. So much of the data on your family that we already have was snatched from oblivion by such a small margin. Some has been forever lost because someone didn't "do it now".

My appeal in the 1949 Annual for funds to undertake further research in the town and probate records of Rhode Island did not meet with sufficient response to go ahead with the project. It would seem that this must wait until someone has time and inclination to do it himself or is possessed of enough interest and funds to have it done by someone on the ground.

Quantities of new data on our family has come in during the past year. Only a portion can be presented in this Annual. A most interesting subject for research was opened up by Miss Olive Paine of Glendale, California. Miss Paine finds evidence that John Carr, who was the eldest son of the Joseph Carr appearing on p. 66 of The Carr Book, had fourteen children. Descendants of one of these children will be presented in a future Annual. The fate of the other thirteen remains as yet a mystery to us. They were quite likely residents of Steuben or Chemung Counties in New York.

I greatly appreciate the interest and helpfulness of many of you scattered about these United States. Together we are doing for our family what will become a significant piece of work as the years go by.

With a cheery Hello to all of you whom I have met and best wishes to all.

ARTHUR A. CARR

A JAMESTOWN HISTORY PUBLISHED

No family has been longer connected with the history of the island of Jamestown in the mouth of Narragansett Bay than the family of Carr. Few, if any, have played more important roles in the affairs of that island in the nearly three hundred years since its purchase from the Indians than the Carrs. For these reasons a history of the island is bound to be of interest to us as a family. When such a history is written by one of us and written with the charm that comes of loving your subject our interest is heightened.

Walter L. Watson is the son of Isabella Carr (see p. 245 of the Carr Book) and although a life long resident of Providence he has always felt that the island of Jamestown was home. His recently published "History of Jamestown" is the result of this interest. This 104 page book is beautifully printed and bound. This we might expect, for Mr. Watson is a member of the firm of John F. Greene Co., Printers and Lithographs of Providence. His handling of the long history of our interesting little island can be explained only by things that do not have to do with the printer's trade. Such things as a historical sense, a love of the green meadows, the surf at Beavertail, the summer coolness from the sea, and that peculiar loyalty to a place that only islanders know.

Carrs were foremost among the original purchasers; Carrs are still, after 293 years, taking active parts in the affairs of the island. All that has happened in between is to be found recorded in this book. It shows evidence of much research, loving care and just hard work.

CARRS—HERE AND THERE

(Pages mentioned refer to "THE CARR BOOK")

A son of Annabelle Carr, p. 198 and 1949 Annual, is widely known for his writings on the subject of evergreens. This son, Lawrence L. Kumlien, is a grower of evergreens and other nursery stock in Janesville, Wis. His books "Hill's Book of Evergreens" and "The Friendly Evergreens" are standard works throughout the world.

Dr. Mary Carr Moore of Los Angeles, Cal., has, within the year, been the subject of a feature article in the "Christian Science Monitor". Dr. Moore, with a long career of teaching music, composing music and playing music, is now at 76 years of age still active in her chosen field. Dr. Moore was born Mary Louisa Carr and is the daughter of Col. Byron O. Carr and his talented wife, Sarah Pratt Carr, p. 370.

An unusual man and wife business partnership is to be found in Washington, D. C., where the Lester Carrs operate a Consulting Engineering business. Mrs. Carr (Helmi Ellen Lukkarila), a practicing attorney, looks after the office and the legal end while Mr. Carr, who is an Electrical Engineer, takes care of the rest. Lester is a grandson of James Riley Carr, whose sketch is published for the first time in this issue of The Carr Family Annual.

The Rev. George W. Carpenter and his wife Isabel West Carpenter returned last autumn to their work in Belgian Congo after several months furlough in the U. S. A. They have been engaged for many years in educational work in that country. George is the son of Daniel W. Carpenter and Mary Edith Carr, p. 453.

An interesting addition to the sketch of Henry Clay Carr, Jr., p. 384, is the fact, recently called to my attention, that he was a Pulitzer Prize winner in 1934-5. This honor was awarded him for his outstanding work in Correspondence.

The stepmother of David Wilmot of "Proviso" fame was Mary Carr, p. 161. This famous name is preserved in our family among descendants of Mary's elder brother, Edward. The present bearer of the name is Wilmot David Carr, who is Superintendent of Schools in Anthony, Kansas.

Who is the oldest living member of our family? I nominate Eliza Carr Russell of Glens Falls, N. Y. She recently celebrated her ninety-eighth birthday. She resides with her daughter in Glens Falls, p. 451.

DEATHS

David Pritchard Carr, accidentally killed May 28, 1948. See p. 386 of The Carr Book.

Kittie Carr Marquart, on May 29, 1948. See p. 196 of The Carr Book and 1949 Annual.

Myrtle Carr, in Portland, Ore., on Aug. 23, 1949. See p. 323 of The Carr Book.

Charles Carr, son of Edson I. and Mary Ann, on Jan. 6, 1936. See p. 407 of The Carr Book.

Calvin Carr, in Stephentown, N. Y., on Dec. 31, 1946. See p. 442 of The Carr Book.

BIRTHS

Anna Louise Carr, on Sept. 21, 1949, to Nicholas E. and Lynn Fearn Carr of Media, Pa.

Nancy Lee Barry, on Mar. 13, 1950, to William E. and Norma Carr Barry of Corinth, N. Y.

ADDITIONS

As stated in previous Annuals this portion of the publication is an attempt to keep abreast of the data that is coming to me all seasons of the year, supplementing that published in THE CARR BOOK. Pages referred to are for the purpose of connecting this material with that book.

p. 44 Information dug out by Mr. Jesse H. Garner of Cameron, Mo., reveals that Sarah the dau. of Robert Carr (p. 26) married and was the mother of eight children. Her sketch would have appeared on this page between the proper numbers. The story on Sarah is:

SARAH CARR 11598: b. Little Compton, R. I. 1745; d. Augusta, Oneida Co., N. Y. May 15, 1809; mar. Coventry, R. I., about 1769 to Nathaniel Case. He was of W. Greenwich and the son of John Case. The R. I. records mention Nathaniel several times. He was granted a license to keep a tavern, also to keep an ale house in his dwelling. At one time he was arrested for selling liquor to the British fleet. His crime was not that of selling liquor but rather of giving aid and comfort to the enemy. Apparently he dealt in real estate, for between 1775 and '78 he and Sarah made deeds to seven farms. He was at one time authorized to sell wood on the highway between him and East Greenwich. The records also say that he was Town Sergeant and that for a short period during the Revolution he was a Private. In his latter days it is said of him that he was "bemused." Their residence in R. I. is indicated as Mishnock Pond.

About 1785 he, his wife and their seven children, removed to Pownal, Vt., where they resided on a farm until about 1800. The dau., Mary, and her husband had taken up land in the new country of Oneida Co., N. Y. Here also Nathaniel and his family went, settling near Augusta, N. Y. in a region known as "Hard Scrabble." This title came from the unusual family names of the vicinity. Stone, Strong, Powers, Marble and Flint. Both Sarah and her husband are buried in the cemetery at Knoxboro, N. Y.

Eight children were born to Sarah and Nathaniel. Because he is not later referred to and because the record mentions but seven children as leaving R. I., it is supposed that Reuben died in infancy.

The eight children were as follows:

Levi Case, b. March (or May) 17, 1770. Mar. Martha Westinghouse. They resided in Florida, N. Y.

Reuben Case.

Mary Case, b. 1775. Mar. William C. Jakways. They resided in Augusta, N. Y.

John Case, b. May 6, 1776. Mar. Elizabeth Holmes and resided in West Henrietta, N. Y.

Theodosia Case, b. June 22, 1778. Mar. James Burleson and resided in Augusta, N. Y.

THE CHILDREN OF DARIUS AND THANKFUL CARR

p. 422 On page 5 of the 1949 "Annual" will be found a sketch of Darius Carr. This sketch was designed to replace the imperfect one found on page 271 of THE CARR BOOK. As mentioned in the previous Annual the material at hand on this branch of the family was much too great to appear in one issue. We continue the story in this issue by giving you the stories of the children of Darius and Thankful (Spencer) Carr. Later generations will appear in subsequent issues.

Page 422 of THE CARR BOOK carries an imperfect sketch of one of the children of Darius and Thankful—Frank Leroy Carr. His complete sketch is included among the eight sketches below.

JAMES RILEY CARR 126312791 b. in McHenry Co., Ill. July 25, 1838; d. at Elk River, Minn. Jan. 16, 1908; Mar. in Wisconsin on Feb. 26, 1859 to Mary J. Donneough. She was b. in Ireland on Aug. 15, 1839 and d. at Elk River, Minn. July 19, 1905.

James and Mary were the parents of nine children. On the ones that are not marked as appearing in Gen. + we have the following data: LaFayette d. as a young man in Aug. of 1880; Mary Ellen mar. Bion D. Owens at Clear Lake, Iowa, on Nov. 28, 1895. Bion d. about two weeks later; Lester d. on April 7, 1903.

The nine children of Darius and Thankful were:

1263127911	+	Edward Darius Carr	b. Oct. 29, 1861
1263127912	+	William Riley Carr	b. Jan. 13, 1864
1263127913		LaFayette Carr	b. July 6, 1866
1263127914		Mary Ellen Carr	b. Apr. 22, 1870
1263127915	+	George Carr	b. Mar. 28, 1873
1263127916	+	Etta Jane Carr	b. Oct. 29, 1875
1263127917	+	Andrew Burton Carr	b. Mar. 21, 1878

1263127919		Lester Carr	b. Apr. 29, 1883

ANDREW CARR 126312792 b. in McHenry Co., Ill. Mar. 15, 1841; d. at Vernon, B. C. Mar. 11, 1915; Mar. in Nov. of 1901 to Agnes Kennedy (widow). Andrew lived with his parents in Ill. and Wis. until about a year after the death of his mother. Then on Sept. 23, 1861, at Mineral Point, Wis. he enlisted in the Union Army. He was a member of Capt. Whittlesay's Co. in the 11th Wis. Inf. This later became Co. E. of the same Regiment. On Feb. 12, 1864, he was honorably discharged. The following day he reenlisted in the same Regiment as a veteran Volunteer. He gained the rank of Corporal and was finally discharged at Mobile, Ala., on Sept. 4, 1865.

After the war, Andrew and his brother, Lyman, took a grading contract with the Union Pacific R. R. Co. near where Green River, Wyoming, now stands. Before the completion of this contract Andrew left his brother to finish the job and joined a group of soldiers going to the west coast. He liked the West so well that he remained there the rest of his life. For many years he lived alone on a farm near Vernon, British Columbia. His marriage occurred late in life. His brother William and his wife visited them in Vernon before his death and after that event Mrs. Carr visited the family in the states.

Andrew and Agnes had one child. This daughter lived to be but four years old passing away on Mar. 5, 1907. This daughter was:

1263127921		Jessie Violet Carr	b. Mar. 15, 1903.

LYMAN CARR 126312793 b. in Erie Co., N. Y. April 20, 1843; d. at Hutchinson, McLeod Co., Minn. Jan. 9, 1897. He mar. Acksah E. Green at Marengo, Ill. on Dec. 15, 1870.

Lyman Carr was born while his parents were on a visit back in Erie Co., N. Y., the old home of the family. They returned to Illinois later in the year. In 1854 the family moved to LaFayette Co., Wis. At the outbreak of the Civil War Lyman became a member of Capt. Whitman's Co.

of the 3rd Wis. Inf. His service in that period was from April 29, 1861 to Dec. 20, 1863. Like his older brother he remained out of the service but one day, re-enlisting on Dec. 21 as a veteran Volunteer in the same Co. He was finally honorably discharged at Louisville, Ky. on July 18, 1865 with the rank of Corp.

In either 1866 or 1867 he and his older brother, Andrew, took a grading contract with the Union Pacific R. R. Co. near what is now Green River, Wyo. His brother later withdrew and went to the west coast. He finished the contract alone. He had many exciting tales to tell of his experiences with the Indians in that frontier country. Upon completing his work he sold his grading outfit and returned to Illinois. Here he married and soon removed to Minn., near what is now Renville Co. In 1874 they took up residence in Hutchinson, Minn. Before the railroad came to that portion of the country Lyman did freighting between Hutchinson and Glencoe, Minn. When the Iron Horse took over that business he turned to buying grain for an Elevator Co. This business he carried on until his death.

Lyman was a member of the Masonic Order and left a host of friends.

Lyman and Acksah had the nine children below. We do not have complete records on the children. But two of them are carried to Gen. +. We have death dates on some of the others as follows: Florence, Sept. 24, 1887; Guy, June 6, 1884; Martin, Sept. 11, 1922; and Harry, Nov. 10, 1899.

The nine children were:

1263127931	+	Andrew LeRoy Carr	b. Apr. 13, 1873
1263127932		Florence Carr	b. , 1875

DARIUS PERRY CARR 126312795 b. Feb. 21, 1848 in Ill.; d. on May 4, 1924 near Clear Lake, Iowa. On Dec. 25, 1879 he was mar. to Amelia Ann Chilson.

Darius Perry Carr was known as "Perry". He lived in Ill., Wis. and Iowa with his family. He was too young to enlist in the army during the Civil War although he worried his father much by telling him that he was going to attempt it.

During his life he did various things such as farming and selling different articles to earn a meager living. At various times he lived with different brothers. Little is known of his wife. His son was brought up by friends near Clear Lake, Iowa. Perry was absent for long periods without communicating with his relatives. "Perry" and Amelia had one son:

WILLIAM THOMAS CARR 126312796 b. at Algonquin, Ill., May 20, 1850; d. at Clear Lake, Iowa, Nov. 21, 1930; Mar. on Jan. 27, 1875, to Viola Druse. She was b. at Coral, Ill. Jan. 15, 1854, and d. in a hospital at Mason City, Iowa on Sept. 13, 1947.

William T. Carr, known as "Bill", spent the first two years of his life in Ill. He was then taken by his parents to LaFayette Co., Wis. where he was brought up on the farm with his eight brothers. Because the elder brothers enlisted in the Union Army during the war the father depended much upon this lad not yet in his teens to help with the farming. In 1869 the family returned to Ill. where Bill remained until shortly after his marriage. About 1876 he and his young wife loaded all of their worldly goods upon a covered wagon and with but twenty-five dollars in cash to see them through, drove about four hundred miles to Grant township, Cerro Gordo Co., Iowa. Here they established their home on a forty acre farm. Pioneer life was rugged. Their home was a log cabin. Indians often came begging for food. Winter brought three day blizzards with temperatures down to thirty below zero. Even the simplest luxuries did not exist.

As time went on their hard work and the fertile Iowa soil brought prosperity. Mr. Carr increased and improved his farm. Eventually he built some of the finest farm buildings in the township. Their finest crop however was the eight children that were born to them.

In 1916 Mr. and Mrs. Carr retired and moved into the village of Clear Lake, Iowa, where they purchased a comfortable home and lived out their long and useful lives. It will be noted that William lived to the age of eighty and Viola was past ninety-three when she died. Both were highly respected citizens.

Of the eight children born to William and Viola six are to be found in Gen. +. The dau., Winnie died in youth on Feb. 24, 1889. The son, Clyde, married but is childless. His wife is Maude Blackmore. They were mar. in Mason City, Iowa, on Mar. 20, 1907. She was b. July 31, 1883.

The eight children of William and Viola are:

1263127961	+	Walter Carr	b. Feb. 4, 1877
1263127962	+	Artell Carr	b. July 5, 1878
1263127963		Clyde Carr	b. Dec. 21, 1879
1263127964	+	Ernest Carr	b. Dec. 9, 1883
1263127965		Winnie Carr	b. June 15, 1888
1263127966	+	Maude Carr	b. Feb. 24, 1890
1263127967	+	Milton Carr	b. June 26, 1894
1263127968	+	Virgil Carr	b. June 9, 1897

FRANKLIN LEROY CARR 126312797 b. at Coral, McHenry Co., Ill. June 12, 1852; d. in Coral, Ill. Dec. 3, 1925; Mar. on Oct. 19, 1870 to Adelia Atlanta Bowen. She was b. at Coral, Ill. Mar. 18, 1854; She d. in Marengo, Ill. Aug. 27, 1932.

When about two years of age Franklin's parents removed from Coral to LaFayette Co., Wis. where the family lived for fifteen years, returning to Ill. in 1869. Married the year after the return of the family, at the age of eighteen Franklin took a farm nearby at Marengo, Ill. Here they spent the remainder of their lives. Both Franklin and his wife are buried in the Coral, Ill. cemetery.

These people were solid, hard working, farm people. Both were very active in the First Baptist Church of Marengo. Franklin was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Franklin and Adelia had three children. The son, Harry, being childless is not carried to the tenth Generation. He mar. Edna Esther Goodrich on July 3, 1901.

The three children are:

1263127971	+	Mary Adelia Carr	b. Aug. 29, 1872
1263127972	+	Claude Theron Carr	b. Dec. 12, 1876
1263127973		Harry LeRoy Carr	b. July 21, 1879

GEORGE ALBERT CARR 126312798 b. near Plattsville, Wis. Dec. 23, 1857; d. on a farm near Rowan, Iowa Feb. 4, 1912; mar. in Marengo, Ill. on Sept. 15, 1879 to Sarah Etta Anthony. She was b. near Pittsburgh, Pa. April 29, 1863.

The first twelve years of the life of George Albert Carr was spent on the farm where he was born, in LaFayette Co., Wis. During these years his mother died and a stepmother came into the home. This second wife of Darius was a devout Christian woman and gave the children a good home and loving care. George was brought up in the normal life of a farm where hard work was the order of the day.

In 1869 the family moved to McHenry Co., Ill. where George grew to manhood. His formal education was meager but he was an intelligent and well informed man. He was a fine penman.

In 1879 George married the girl of his choice. In 1881 they moved, together with their baby, his parents and brother, Jehiel, to the frontier State of Iowa. Here life for a few years was a struggle with prairie fires and other disasters. The obstacles were finally overcome and they prospered. They lived on several farms, the last one being near Rowan, Iowa. There George suffered severe attacks of sciatic rheumatism and at the age of fifty-five succumbed to cancer of the pancreas. He was devoted to his family and much concerned for their well being.

The children of George and Sarah (she was known by her middle name of Etta) were four in number. The son, Franklin, has not married. He has always remained at home. After the death of the father, Franklin and his mother moved into the town of Rowan where they now reside. Both are devoted members of the Methodist Church. Franklin is a "born mechanic" and loves to work with machinery.

The children of George and Sarah (Etta) are:

1263127981	+	Bertha Edna Carr	b. Mar. 20, 1881
1263127982		Franklin Elliot Carr	b. May 17, 1882
1263127983	+	Nellie Gertrude Carr	b. July 8, 1885
1263127984	+	Emmett Rozelle Carr	b. Feb. 6 1889

JEHIEL SPENCER CARR 126312799 b. in Darlington, LaFayette Co., Wis. on May 23, 1860; d. at 728 Upshur St. N. W., Washington, D. C. on Sept. 14, 1920; mar. at Cascade, Dubuque Co., Iowa, on Mar. 19, 1890, to Sara Brown. Sara was the dau. of John and Eliza (Bowden) Brown. She was b. in Conlig, Ireland on June 3, 1861. Her father was of Bervie, Scotland. Her mother of Conlig. Sara d. at 4535 Klinger St. N. W., Washington on Aug. 13, 1942.

Jehiel Spencer Carr, known as "Hiel", was born about a year before the War between the States. His mother died about six weeks after his birth. Mary, the wife of his eldest brother, who was with the family at the time of his mother's death, took care of the baby until Jan. of 1861 when the father married Elvira Dunham Bullard, a childless widow. She was good to Hiel and loved him as his own mother. When about nine years old the family moved to McHenry Co., Ill. where they lived until 1881 when Hiel, his brother, George, George's wife and the parents of George and Hiel removed to Franklin Co., Iowa.

In Iowa things did not go so well at first. The father had gone into debt for the land and was growing old. The sons assumed the responsibility for the debt. A prairie fire burned out all they had and times were bad.

Hiel became acquainted with a young school teacher from Cascade, Iowa. She was the daughter of a Baptist minister who held spelling bees and cyphering matches for the young people of the community. In 1890 they were married and took a farm near Alexander, Iowa, where they lived for several years. In 1898 they purchased a farm in Grant township, Cerro Gordo Co., Iowa, where they resided until 1915, when they retired to the village of Clear Lake, Iowa. In 1919 they moved to Washington, D. C. to be with their daughter who was in Government service. By that time Hiel's health was broken. He was able to realize a lifetime ambition to visit Mt. Vernon, The White House and The Capitol, but the following year, after an illness of about nine months, he passed away. Sara lived in Washington with her daughter until her death in 1942. Both Hiel and Sara are buried in the cemetery near Alexander, Iowa, as is the brother, George.

Mr. Carr was a hard working, upright Christian gentleman. He was a member of the Methodist Church of Clear Lake, Iowa. Jehiel and Sara have one daughter:

1263127991	+	Minnie Edna Carr	b. July 30, 1891

REUNIONS

One certain way to stimulate interest in, and the preservation of, family history is to hold a family reunion. Many of these are held every year. Two outstanding ones of the past season have come to my attention.

On the last Sunday of August in each year the descendants of Chauncey Carr gather in Iowa City, Iowa, for such an event. Last August the date fell upon the 28th, it being the twenty-fifth time that those of that clan have gathered. The weather was delightful and fifty-six members of the family were on hand for the picnic lunch and the tall visiting of the afternoon.

The oldest member of the family present was Dayheart Hardy, who is now seventy-nine years of age. Dayheart, whose mother was Mary Carr, resides on his farm near Riverside, Iowa. Beside the folks from nearby, there were present representatives from Ill., Indianapolis, Ind., Seattle, Wash., and San Francisco, Cal.

It was decided to continue holding the get-to-gethers on the last Sunday of August. Officers of the group elected were: Pres., O. J. Starr of Indianapolis; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Mae Walket of Iowa City; Sect. and Treas., Mrs. Mary Hardy of Riverside.

Eight days previous to the reunion of the Iowa Carrs, on Aug. 20, the descendants of Samuel and Patience Carr (see cover of this Annual) gathered for their annual meeting in Alliance, Ohio. Mr. Elmer Carr, a former president of the group, sends the following account of this pleasant affair. "The descendants of Samuel and Patience Carr met in annual reunion Aug. 20, 1949, in the main pavilion of Silver Park in Alliance, Ohio. A bounteous dinner was enjoyed at noon by over fifty persons. Visiting preceded and followed the business meeting which was conducted by the President, Martin Brantingham. It was agreed to hold our next reunion at the same place on the second Saturday of August in 1950. Arthur T. Carr was elected President and Esther Brantingham Sect. Martin Brantingham was the oldest one at the reunion. The table committee for next year is Bertha and Jim Boyce, Fern and Alfred Crawford. Relatives were present from Alliance, Salem, Winona, Minerva, Carrolton, Cadis, Colerain, Ada, Archbold, Cleveland, Ohio, and from Wilmore Ky."

Space forbids placing this likeness on the cover of this issue of the Annual, with that of her husband, Samuel. These sturdy Quaker people went early to land near Marlboro, Ohio. Many worthy descendants now reside in that area. Something of their descendants will be found in the account of Reunions in this Annual. See also p. 134 of THE CARR BOOK.
